

6th July 2026

Dear Valued Customer,

Dear Business Partner,

Due to the continued volatility in fuel prices, we are continuing the weekly adjustment of our exceptional fuel surcharge mechanism, as previously communicated. This enables us to reflect market developments more accurately and transparently.

Last week, fuel prices increased by +0,02%. As fuel represents approximately 20% of our operational transport costs, the resulting impact on our pricing is calculated as follows:

$$0,02\% \times 20\% = +0,00\%$$

Therefore, an additional +0,00% fuel surcharge will be applied to transports executed during Week 28.

This weekly adjustment ensures that any future decreases in fuel prices will also be reflected more quickly, allowing the surcharge to adapt faster to market conditions.

Based on the current market situation, this will likely be the final calculation made on a weekly basis. As from next week, the fuel surcharge will again be calculated on a monthly basis.

We will continue to provide updates and remain available should you have any questions.

Kind regards,

DANDOY team
