Fuel Surcharge Update: Monthly Adjustment & October 2026 Rate

Dear Valued Customer,

Dear Business Partner,

On 6 March 2026, we informed you that exceptional volatility in the fuel markets made our standard monthly fuel surcharge mechanism insufficiently responsive to sudden price movements. We therefore introduced a temporary weekly adjustment, to remain in place until market conditions showed sufficient signs of stabilization.

The weekly mechanism has since fulfilled its purpose. Fuel surcharges rose sharply through March and April, reached their highest level in early May, eased substantially during the summer, and have gradually increased again since August. Fuel prices remain elevated, but the short-term movements are now less abrupt than those that led to the exceptional measure in March.

In line with our communication of 6 March and the temporary nature of this measure, we will therefore return to our standard monthly fuel surcharge mechanism as from Monday, 5 October 2026.

What this means for your logistics:

- Calculation frequency:
 - The fuel surcharge will once again be calculated and updated on a monthly basis.
- Monthly communication:
 - You will receive the applicable fuel surcharge rate at the start of each calendar month through our standard communication channels.

Based on the September reference figures, the monthly diesel surcharge for October 2026 will be 26.85%, applicable from Monday, 5 October 2026.

We sincerely appreciate your flexibility and understanding during this exceptional period. Our objective remains to provide a transparent and predictable fuel surcharge mechanism while maintaining reliable, high-quality transport and logistics services.

Should you have any questions regarding this transition, the October 2026 diesel surcharge, or your specific agreement, please contact your usual contact person within our team.

Kind regards,

DANDOY Team
